A WHITE TRUFFLE INDULGENCE AT THE LIGHTHOUSE RESTAURANT & ROOFTOP BAR

SINGAPORE, 12 October, 2016 – From now till 31 October 2016, The Lighthouse Restaurant & Rooftop Bar welcomes the anticipated season of the prized white truffle.

Unlike black truffles, white truffles can't be cultivated, making them all the more coveted by gourmets, and infinitely more aromatic than their counterparts. The Lighthouse Restaurant receives these gems directly from Alba, a region in northern Italy renowned for its high quality harvest, as well as Acqualagna, another city centre famed for its production and annual white truffle festival.

Making the most of the limited period in which they are available, Chef Carlo Marengoni has created seven creations that best enhance the truffles' unique aroma and delicate flavour. Plump giant scallops are merely pan-seared for a crisp exterior, then paired with the classic combination of asparagus and Hollandaise sauce before receiving a shower of freshly shaved truffles.

Taglierini, a thinner version of tagliatelle pasta, is made in-house then paired simply with wisps of white truffles and Castelmagno cheese fondue, an ancient cheese with a protected designation of origin status, also from Piedmont. Savour truffle in a whole new way with the white truffle risotto, where instead of shavings, the truffle is turned into textural pops of caviar. Desserts aren't spared the truffle treatment – truffle is weaved into luxuriously smooth ice cream for an earthy complement atop vanilla puffs doused with chocolate sauce.

The elegant dining experience takes place at The Lighthouse Restaurant & Rooftop Bar, with mesmerising views of the Singapore skyline and Marina Bay waterfront.

A la carte dishes are priced from S$28* and available during lunch and dinner.
